
Using the Experience of Germany and Sweden, the Creation of Small Innovative Companies at the Moscow State Technical University named after Bauman

© G.O. Khalova, S.Yu. Alexandrova

Bauman Moscow State Technical University, Moscow, 105005, Russia

Is considered the international experience on creation of small innovative enterprises at higher educational establishments, and formulates a number of recommendations on application of it in the Bauman state technical University.

Keywords: small business, innovative business, small innovative companies at Universities.

Khalova G.O. (b. 1955) graduated from Turkmen Polytechnic Institute on a speciality Economy and organization of construction in 1977. Dr. Sci. (Econ.), Professor of the Economic Theory Department of Bauman Moscow State Technical University, Professor of the Gubkin Russian State University of Oil and Gas. Published 135 scientific and educational-methodical works. Prepared 8 candidates of Sciences. Scientific interests: macroeconomic policy in the sphere of regulation and use of natural resources; foreign economic activity of enterprises, the problems of development of the world economy. e-mail: khalovag@yandex.ru

Alexandrova S.Yu. (b. 1982) graduated from Engineering Business and Management Faculty of Bauman Moscow State Technical University in 2006. Ph. D., Economist in State Corporation «Rosatom». Published 15 scientific, educational and educational-methodical works, a total of 8 P. S. Deals with the issues: problems of creation and activity of small innovative enterprises at universities. e-mail: Aleksandrova-sv@inbox.ru
